

GUITEAU JUROR CLAIMED BY DEATH

Henry Jackson Bright, One of Last Five, Succumbs.

ONCE LEADING MERCHANT

Only Retired From Active Business Pursuits When His Health Began to Fail.

After an illness of more than three years, eleven months of which he was confined to his room, Henry Jackson Bright, a retired merchant, and one of the five surviving members of the jury that convicted Guiteau for the assassination of President Garfield, died in his apartments, in the Lambert, 131 A street northeast, at 1 o'clock this morning.

Death was caused by a complication of heart disease, Bright's disease, and dropsy. For several months his condition had been such that the end was expected at almost any minute.

Native of Alexandria.

Mr. Bright was born near Alexandria, Va., in 1829. He came to Washington in his early youth, and for many years was a prominent boot and shoe merchant on Capitol Hill. About twenty years ago Mr. Bright's health began to fail, and owing to his increasing deafness and the shifting of commercial activity on Capitol Hill he gave up his business. Since then he has devoted his life to his family, and a striking feature of his life is that since his retirement he adopted and educated five orphans. The latter years of his life he lived simply and quietly, doing good wherever he found an opportunity, and lending a helping hand to those in need. He had been a Blue Lodge Mason for forty-five years, but like his home life his Masonic interests were marked with simplicity and a lack of display, and during that time he never held an office.

Mr. Bright is survived by his widow, one son, Henry T. Bright, a patent attorney of this city, and one adopted daughter, Miss Julia M. Rawlings, principal of the Hilton School.

Funeral on Wednesday.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from his late home, The Rev. Arthur S. Johns, of Christ Church southeast, and Rev. Dr. Francis, of Trinity Methodist Church, will officiate. Interment will be in Congressional Cemetery. The funeral will be with Masonic honors.

The four surviving members of the famous Guiteau jury now are John P. Hamlin, clerk to Senator Morgan; George W. Gates, a nephew of Mr. Bright, and the youngest member of the jury; William H. Brawner, and Ralph Wormley, colored, who was one of the owners of the famous Wormley House, now the Colonial Hotel, which was sold recently, and will soon be torn down to give place to a modern structure for the use of the Union Trust Company.

BRIDE OF A FEW WEEKS TRIES TO END HER LIFE

Was Disconsolate When Her Husband Remained Away From Home All Night.

After a few short weeks of wedded life Mrs. Fannie Miller, twenty-nine years old, attempted suicide yesterday morning by asphyxiation in her room at 221 D street northwest. After a few hours' treatment at the Emergency Hospital she left the institution in company with a woman companion.

Asked why she no longer cared to live, Mrs. Miller, it is said, informed the police and hospital physicians that her husband did not kiss her good-by when he left the house Saturday night and failed to return until 9 o'clock yesterday morning.

At 8 o'clock she gave him up and retired. When he returned the next morning unconscious on the bed, Policeman Buearegard, of the Sixth precinct, was summoned and he telephoned for an ambulance in which the woman was taken to the hospital.

Yesterday morning the odor of gas was detected in the hall and was traced to Mrs. Miller's room. After Mrs. Schaffer had summoned a policeman and entered the room. The gas was turned on full and the discovery was made just in time.

SHORN LIKE SAMSON MAN COLLECTS DAMAGES

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., June 4.—A jury in the State circuit court of Douglas county, S. D., has fixed the sum of $235 as the value of a head of hair belonging to a man named Hudson. The man based his suit on the ground that while the three defendants were intoxicated, they bound him and cut off his luxuriant locks.

The loss of his hair, while he was engaged in traveling over the State giving exhibitions of his great strength, he contended, took from him his strength as well as his means of support. He sued for damages in the sum of several thousand dollars.

POLICEMAN BADLY HURT, HORSE SUMMONS HELP

Official's Skull Was Fractured by Home Run Hit at Baseball Game.

NEW YORK, June 4.—Mounted Policeman Thomas Maher sat on his horse at Van Cortlandt Park watching a game of baseball, when a ball knocked for a home run landed on his head.

Everybody laughed but Maher. He was dazed from the blow. The game went on, and nobody noticed that Maher had dropped from his saddle—that is, nobody excepting Maher's horse, Chester. When the horse felt its master slip to the ground it instinctively knew something was wrong. Then the horse realized help was needed and gave a loud whinny that startled the ball players. In a minute the ball players were running toward Maher. As Maher was unconscious, the ball players sent for an ambulance from the Fordham Hospital. Maher was found to have a probable fracture of the skull and was taken to the hospital. His condition is critical.

WOMAN SAVED HER PET FROM BULLDOG'S TEETH

NEWPORT, R. I., June 4.—For the love of her dog, a frail-looking black and white terrier, Mrs. J. Earl Sheffield risked much. The pet made the serious error of delving to whip a French bulldog big enough to eat him up. A lively fight, lasting several minutes, ensued, and several men dared not attempt to save the smaller dog. Mrs. Sheffield made several charges into the melee. She actually pulled the big dog's teeth out of her pet's neck and drew with the little fellow into a store, while the other, still in hot pursuit, brought up against the closed door.

LAD OF FOURTEEN YEARS LAID OUT BY WHISKY

Discovered Unconscious on Banks of Eastern Branch and Sent to the Hospital.

Unconscious from the effects of whisky, William Fey, fourteen years old, of 1219 Georgia avenue southeast, was found on the west bank of the Eastern branch last night, shortly before 9 o'clock. Policeman Crouch, of the Fifth precinct, was passing in a launch, and saw the lad stretched out full length on the ground. He summoned a patrol wagon, and sent the boy to the Washington Asylum Hospital. Physicians there regarded him as so much improved this morning that he was allowed to go to his home. The lad said the whisky was given him by a man whom he never met before.

COOLLY INFORMED POLICE HE INTENDED BIGAMY

SALEM, Mass., June 4.—Avery M. Weston, of this city, pleaded guilty to a charge of polygamy in the local police court.

Because of the fact that the Salem police knew of his intentions and had been informed by his first wife that he was already married, Chief Field is being roundly criticized. According to statements made it appears that the police knew the license had been issued, and accordingly knew that the young woman whom Weston intended to marry was Miss Eliza M. Dennison, of Gloucester, but made no move either to inform the girl or to warn Weston.

DR. D. B. CLARKE DIES AT AN ADVANCED AGE

Was One of Washington's Best Known and Highly Esteemed Capitalists.

After a two months illness with stomach trouble Dr. Daniel Boone Clarke, one of Washington's best known capitalists and professional men, died yesterday, at his home, 1432 Massachusetts avenue northwest.

Of Prominent Maryland Family.

Dr. Clarke was a member of one of the oldest families of Maryland. He is removed by seven generations from the Hon. Robert Clarke, who was one of the privy councilors to Lord Baltimore, after his arrival in this country. Dr. D. B. Clarke was born in Washington March 2, 1825. After receiving an education in the private schools of this city he entered a drug store as a clerk when sixteen years old. During the next four years he studied pharmacy and when twenty-one years old purchased the business in which he had worked while studying the profession.

Well-Known Financier.

Later Dr. Clarke decided to study medicine and was graduated from Georgetown University in the class of 1857. Dr. Clarke never practiced in this city however. He abandoned the professional life after his retirement from pharmaceutical business and engaged in investment. He was president of the Franklin Insurance Company and a director in the Metropolitan Railroad Company, the United States Electric Light Company and of the National Bank of the Republic. He was president of the last named institution from 1877 until its merger with another local bank a few years ago.

Dr. Clarke was interested and a prominent figure in the political life of the District. He was active in securing many of the civic improvements for the city. For many years he has been a member, and for the last ten years treasurer, of the Washington National Monument Association.

In 1847 Dr. Clarke married Miss Anna Crapps. From the union three children were born, the only survivor being Mrs. Alexander Porter Morse.

LAW STOPS MARRIAGE OF YOUNG MAN TO A WIDOW

WINDFALL, Ind., June 4.—George W. Browning, residing two miles west of this city, has just filed legal objections with the clerk of the circuit court of this county to prevent his twenty-two-year-old son, William, from obtaining a marriage license to wed Mrs. Jennie Smith, a widow of forty years, who has two living divorced husbands and two children. Upon the lodgment of the father's objections the clerk refused to issue the much-desired document, and all arrangements for the wedding are blocked.

The objections are based upon the act of 1905, which substantially provides that the clerk of the circuit court will not grant a marriage license to any applicant who is not able to support a family, and is likely to so continue.

ALLEGES THAT HIS WIFE IS CHRONIC DESERTER

MUSKOGON, Mich., June 4.—After being deserted, he says, twelve times in fourteen years by his wife, Frank Ball has begun proceedings for divorce from Melissa Ball.

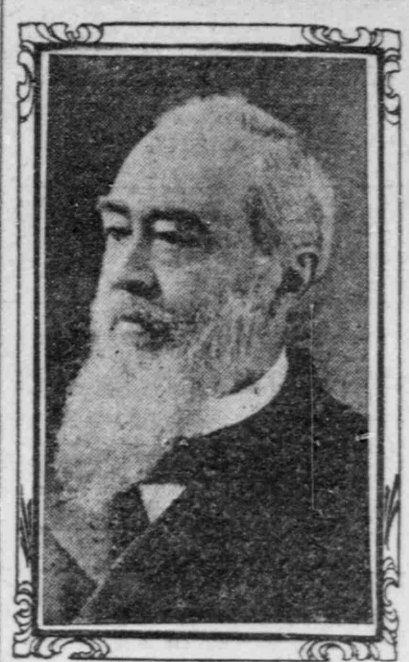

Ball says that he has been subject to the added grievance of being the target for a number of flatirons and other household utensils, which have been thrown with marvelous precision by his wife. He also alleges that on a certain occasion, when he was laid up with a crushed leg, she tantalized him by telling him that she had behaved improperly with other men in the past and intended to do so again.

The couple were married at Montague in 1888 and have three children ranging in age from seven to seventeen years.

PROMINENT CAPITALIST DEAD

DR. DANIEL BOONE CLARKE, Who Died After a Brief Illness With Stomach Trouble.

ROPE WOULDN'T HOLD FAT MAN, HANGED WITH CHAIN

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., June 4.—Josiah B. Riffe, a merchant of Gladstone, Mo., who weighed about three hundred and fifty pounds, hanged himself today with a trace chain. He formed a loop by passing the chain through the ring at one end. The other end he fastened to a beam in his barn. There was no coffin in Jefferson City large enough to hold the body and one was ordered from St. Louis. No cause for his suicide is known.

SWAM WITH CLOTHES ON; YOUNG MAN LOSES LIFE

James Pumphrey Drowned in Sight of His Companions in Boat.

Daring to attempt to swim across the Eastern branch with his clothing on, James Pumphrey, twenty-one years old, 1330 Eleventh street southeast, was drowned yesterday afternoon. His body was recovered several hours afterward by a riverman named Hancock, and taken to the morgue. Coroner Nevitt gave a certificate of accidental death. Today the body was turned over to Undertaker Nalley, and the remains will be sent to a town in Maryland, near Broad creek, for interment tomorrow afternoon.

Pumphrey went boating with his brother, John P. Pumphrey; Elmer Wilson, John T. Weller, Walter and James Dixon, and Taft King, all of whom live within a short distance of his home. They had been rowing above the Pennsylvania bridge, and were having a jolly time singing, joking, and splashing over one another. It is said they had a keg of beer in the boat.

Pumphrey stood up on the stern and said: "I'll bet a dollar I can swim across with my clothes on." Some one in the boat, it is said, questioned his prowess, and he at once removed his coat, and leaped into the river. He immediately sank, but soon came up gasping for breath. His companions seized the oars and attempted to row to his rescue. They got the boat within a few yards of him when he went down for the last time. John Veller, one of the men in the boat, removed his clothing, and dived after the struggling man, but was unable to reach him.

ALLEGED WIFE POISONER PLACED UNDER ARREST

WATERBURY, Conn., June 4.—Zachariah Stauffer was arrested this morning in Naugatuck, on an order from Medical Examiner A. A. Crane, of this city. He is held on suspicion of poisoning his wife, who died under suspicious circumstances at the Waterbury Hospital.
